Bill Richardson
bill@drca.org

I hope all of you have had a good summer. The Board has appreciated hearing from you on a variety of important issues, such as plans for the 26th Street/Old Dominion property, County water bills, the County staff's upcoming review of Military Road intersections (including Nelly Custis), VDOT's new I-66 signage, and the second phase of DRCA's Neighborhood Conservation project involving stream restoration on Tributary B. We will be reporting back to you on each of these. Please continue to let us know what's on your mind. And be sure to give us your reactions to the second year of the Marymount Farmer's Market, which is held each Saturday through mid-November.

Our next DRCA membership meeting will be held on October 11 at Taylor School. As usual, the meeting begins at 7:30 p.m., with a social half hour beginning at 7:00.

Our speaker will be Noah Simon, who has now served for over a year as Congressman Don Beyer's District Director. In that job, Noah has primary responsibility for constituent requests, which may involve social security, pensions, visas, immigration, or other issues. This is also an opportunity to raise any concerns you may have about federal (as opposed to state or local) issues,

SIGNATURE THEATRE

An Act of God

October 3-November 26

Written by 13-time Emmy Award® winner David Javerbaum (The Daily Show), this exceptionally witty comedy delivers a new meaning to the phrase divine intervention.

God is back. And he's got a lot to say. Inhabiting the body of beloved DC actor Tom Story (Round House Theatre's Angels in America, MetroStage's Fully Committed), and flanked by his ever-faithful archangels, the Supreme Being gifts his mortals with an entirely new set of Ten Commandments in a sinfully funny whirlwind of comedy heaven.

"A gut-busting-funny riff on the never-ending folly of mankind." The New York Times

DONALDSON RUN'S TRIBUTARY B RESTORATION

Jen McDonnell
Stormwater Outreach Specialist
Arlington County DES
Office of Sustainability and Environmental Management

The restoration of Tributary B is approaching. The design plans are nearing completion and County staff look forward to putting this project out to bid over the winter. Below are frequently asked questions that staff have received related to the Tributary B restoration.

1. Why is the County restoring Donaldson Run's Tributary B?

A: The upcoming restoration project will address a variety of existing problems within the Tributary B stream valley. The project will:

- Protect the 30-inch water main, sanitary sewer line, and an exposed sanitary sewer lateral. Erosion in the stream valley has uncovered the water main and the sanitary sewer line and lateral. This infrastructure was not designed to be exposed, and as a result, is currently more prone to damage and breaks. The project will support and protect these pipes.
- Help the County meet its regulatory requirements to reduce nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment pollution. The County's MS4 Permit (<https://environment.arlingtonva.us/stormwater-watersheds/management/ms4-permit/>) requires reductions in nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment pollution. Stream restoration projects, like Tributary B, are effective tools to address phosphorus and sediment pollution. Arlington's pollution reduction efforts are a part of the larger Chesapeake Bay cleanup effort.
- Improve the long-term health of the stream valley forest. Stream erosion has caused a substantial number of mature trees to fall into the stream in recent years. The restored stream channel will be stable, and, as a result, the remaining trees and the trees that will be planted following construction will be protected.
- Restore native vegetation to the Tributary B stream valley. The area surrounding Tributary B is overrun with invasive, nonnative plants such as kudzu, porcelain berry, and English ivy. The area will be replanted with native plants that support local wildlife.

- Protect the bike trail. Erosion is threatening the trail in several places. This is particularly noticeable in the section that is close to the confluence with Tributary A.
2. How many people are served by the water line that will be addressed by the restoration?

A: The project will help to protect a 30-inch water main. The hillside around the main has eroded, exposing the water main and leaving it vulnerable to damage. The water main supplies an estimated 20,000 residents. Currently there isn't redundancy in the drinking water system for this line, making its protection especially critical to the surrounding neighborhoods.

3. How many replacement trees will be planted following completion of the construction?

A: Approximately 285 trees and shrubs are scheduled to be planted following construction. Eighty trees are scheduled for removal. Eighty-one trees had previously been scheduled for removal but one of those recently toppled over into Tributary B.

4. How will invasive plants be addressed as a part of the restoration?

A: Invasive plant removals and treatments have been occurring in preparation for the project since 2011. Following the completion of the construction, invasive plant treatments will continue as the new, native plantings are established in phases over the course of five years.

TRIB B RESTORATION

5. How long will construction take?
A: Staff expect construction will last for six months.
6. Will the trail be open to the public during construction?
A: The trail along Tributary B will be closed during construction. Residents should expect the closure to last six months. The trail along Tributary A will be open during construction.
7. When will construction begin?
A: Staff anticipate that construction will begin in the early summer of 2018.
8. Where can I view past presentations related to the project?
A: The project page for the Tributary B restoration (<https://projects.arlingtonva.us/projects/donaldson-run-stream-restoration-tributary-b/>) provides the latest project updates and links to past presentations that have been made since 2009.

E-CARE EVENT -- NEW LOCATION

E-CARE is an event where residents can safely dispose of hazardous household materials (HHM), recycle bikes, small metal items, shoes, clothing and much more!

HHM are products found in the home that are flammable, corrosive, poisonous or potentially hazardous. They include items such as automotive fluid, car care products, fluorescent light bulbs, corrosives, household cleaners, and propane gas cylinders.

Bring your ID to verify that you are an Arlington resident or employee.

For a full list of acceptable items, go to www.arlingtonva.us and search "E-CARE."

CONSTRUCTION OF VACATION LANE INTERSECTION PROJECT MAY BEGIN THIS FALL

Anne Wilson

In September 2014, the County Board approved funding for pedestrian and safety improvements at two intersections on Vacation Lane at Utah Street and at Stuart Street. Last April, DRCA received notice that the design work had been completed for the project. A meeting was held in May for neighbors and other interested parties to review the plans which include curb extensions at the Utah Street intersection that will shorten the distance for pedestrians crossing the street. At Stuart Street, a stop sign will replace the current yield sign and the intersection will become a "T" shape intersection rather than the wide "Y" configuration that is present today. The changes are designed to promote traffic calming which will make it safer for walkers heading to Taylor and Stratford Schools.

DRCA has been advised that construction will take six to eight weeks and could begin as soon as late October or November. A preconstruction meeting will be held about a week before construction starts for those directly affected.

If you have any questions, please contact block captain John Seggerman at john@drca.org.

AIRPORT NOISE UPDATE

Charlie Henkin

Previous newsletter articles recounted the recent history of failed attempts to moderate noise from commercial aircraft using DCA. (See March 2017 newsletter for most recent article which summarizes the technical and political factors to that date.) Since then, several factors have led the County Board to engage directly with civic associations and jointly with staff of Representative Don Beyer, culminating in a meeting on September 12 at County Board offices, chaired by John Vihstadt and attended by Libby Garvey:

- Continued citizen complaints as the FAA employs its accurate NextGen navigation system to route flights directly over civic association neighborhoods (and not directly over the Potomac River). At the same time there is a lack of consensus within the MWAA DCA working group (<http://www.flyreagan.com/dca/community-working-group>), which frustrates and further decreases motivation of the FAA to do anything.
- The letter to the FAA administrator by Maryland Governor Hogan, both Maryland US Senators, and local jurisdiction officials complaining about noise over Montgomery County neighborhoods. This letter requested that pre-NextGen flight paths (pre 2015) be used. The FAA rejected this request and Gov. Hogan has now sued the FAA.
- Phoenix, AZ filed a legal claim against the FAA for failing to collaborate with the city before implementing their NextGen flight paths. The judge ruled with the city, and the FAA paths are being adjusted. In the decision, a concurring judge noted that the FAA needs to consider avoiding historically designated neighborhoods and parks in determining flight paths (Note-Potomac Overlook Park is directly under the current flight paths in Arlington.)
- Georgetown has filed a lawsuit to force the FAA to push flight paths away from their location (which would be further towards Arlington even if Potomac River overflight paths were used).
- Palo Alto, CA has engaged in a noise abatement effort with the FAA concerning San Francisco airport

- Continued efforts by Rep. Beyer, including successfully rebutting attempts to extend the “perimeter” or distance flown (and hence speed and weight of aircraft) by flights into DCA or to increase the number of slots allowed airlines, as well as amendments to the FAA authorization bill to expand the use of airline user fees to fund affected homeowner adoption of noise suppression windows. (This authorization is currently held up by the Trump administration proposal to privatize the FAA.) Rep. Beyer continues to seek results from a 65dB noise study he has advocated which would use data from FAA monitors in place to quantify the problem.

Rep. Beyer’s staff informed the group of the limits of the possible. DCA would not ban all nighttime flights, for example. Mandating more rapid airline adoption of the level 5 quieter (and more fuel efficient) engines has been blocked by the House Transportation Committee, under pressure from airlines. At the same time, Rep. Beyer’s staff took note of several interesting ideas advocated by the civic associations:

- Increasing fines paid by airlines violating the current noise limits at DCA (see March 2017 article for details). The maximum $5,000 fine was established 30-plus years ago. Why not increase it tenfold and index it to inflation thereafter? (The total fines paid in 2016 were an extremely modest $140,000.)
- Requiring aircraft to fly higher altitudes on departure and arrival
- Allocate the slots at DCA to the quietest aircraft being flown first and the noisiest last, thus encouraging the early adoption of Level 5 engine technology (currently used only on the largest new commercial aircraft such as the 787).
- DCA should be adopted as a model airport for validating the most useful noise abatement concepts for potential adoption in other urbanized areas.

John Vihstadt and Libby Garvey noted we:

- Can use some of the Council of Government resources to get other local jurisdictions engaged with these ideas and possibly fund a study consultant.
- Should seek a letter comparable to the Maryland letter supported by US Senators and Gov. McAuliffe to complement Rep.

Beyer’s efforts to date. This letter might amend and clarify Ms. Garvey’s suggestion in her letter to the FAA from the summer of 2016 that more naturally dispersed flight paths be used, not by abandoning NextGen but by using NextGen to enable just such a dispersion concept.

Next steps.
County staff will distribute meeting notes and suggested actions for attendee comment and arrange for the next meeting in mid-November.
